

2021 Our Wave Impact Report

Jan 1, 2021 - Dec 31 2021

Our Wave is a platform for survivors of sexual violence to safely and anonymously share their stories. We launched the site in 2019 with the aim of releasing periodic reports outlining trends from the anonymous stories that we received. Through these reports we hope to raise awareness to the frequency of sexual violence and promote healing. Here are some of the data points from our community in 2021.

Stories

189
Stories Submitted

17
Artworks Submitted

105
Messages of Hope

110
Messages of Healing

Messages to Survivors

Here are a few of the hopeful messages survivors on our platform wanted to share with other survivors who are reading their stories.

"I know it hurts but please don't isolate yourself. Share your pain with the ones that love you. I promise you, you will breathe again."

"Just because you think others has/had it worse than you, doesn't make your trauma any less significant to you. Your experience matters. And it shouldn't be weighted or scaled next to others' experiences."

"It is not your fault. It has never been your fault. It will never be your fault."

Users

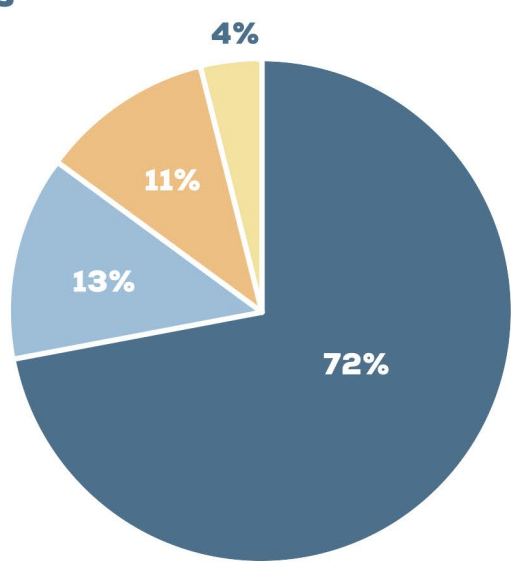

27.9K
Users

35.1K
Views

1.45K
Grounding Exercises Started

809
Reactions

Views

Reactions

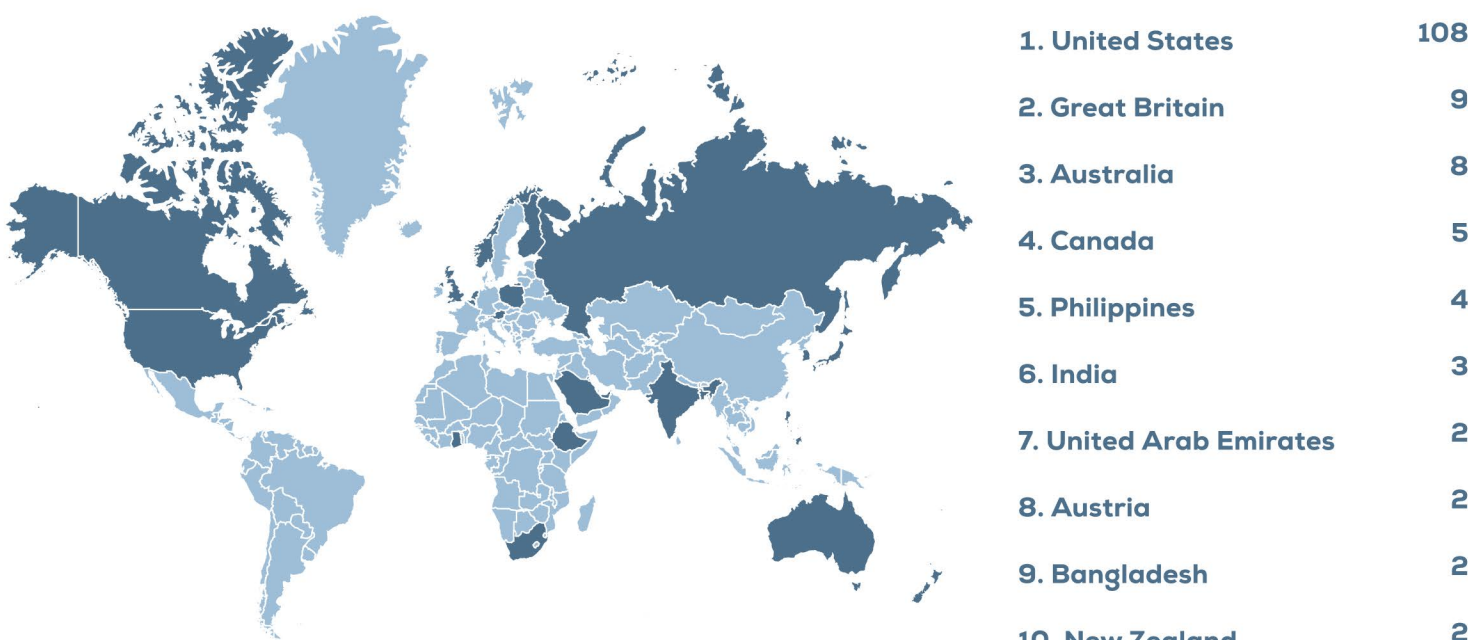

Reach

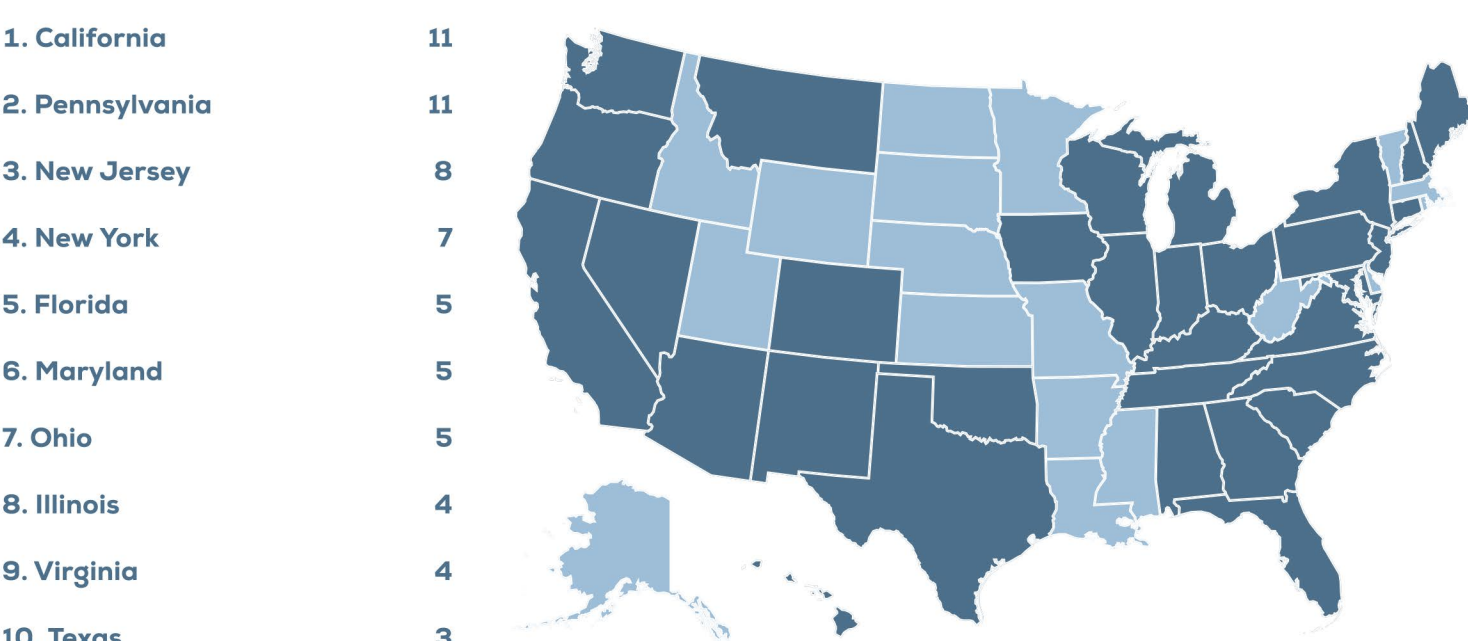

34
States Reached

22
Countries Reached

World-Wide Reach

Local Reach

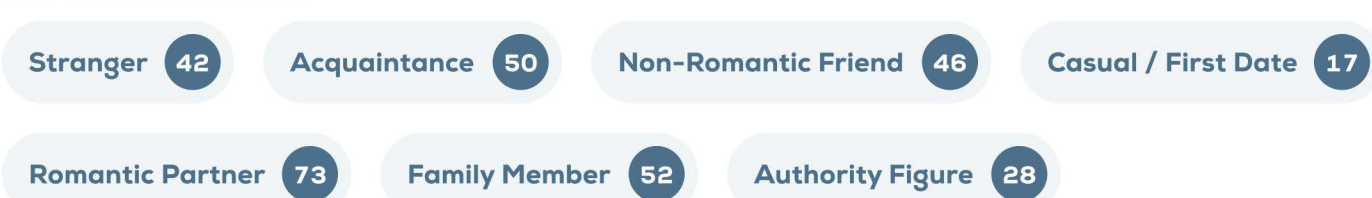

Tags

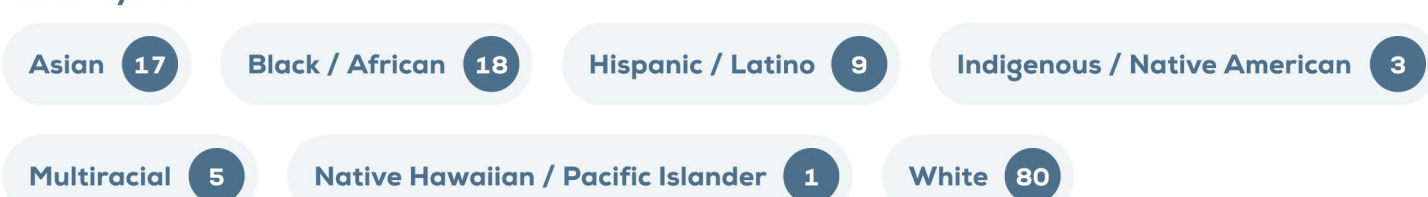

I was at...

The offender was a...

I identify as...

My sexual orientation is...

I identify as...

I was a(n)...

Want to Learn More?

Visit ourwave.org for more information.

Follow Us